Attorney general's opinion requested on school board seat problem

By DENA BISNETTE

Within two weeks, Hancock County election officials expect to receive a state attorney general's opinion concerning the election of a school board representative for Beat One.

According to Hancock County Election Commissioner Charles Gottschalk, Beat One has been without representation since the county was redistricted last year and the Pearllington precinct was moved to Beat Two.

As a result of the redistricting, Beat One representative George Ladner, a Pearllington resident, now lives in Beat Two.

Ladner, however, is still serving on the board. "As far as I'm concerned, I'm still representing Beat One," he said. "If I had moved out of Beat One or something, I would have resigned, but I think since the redistricting was something beyond my control I'll probably be allowed to serve out the remaining three years of my term."

Gottschalk said the regularly-scheduled election for the Beat Five school board post will be on the November ballot and the opinion he has requested will help determine whether the Beat One election should also be included or whether Ladner should finish his six-year term.

"Some of the residents in Beat One have been pretty unhappy because they have no representation. I'm asking for this opinion at their request," Gottschalk said.

Gottschalk added that he is requesting a written opinion from Attorney General Ed Pittman because his research into the school board problem has revealed that some oral opinions obtained from past attorney generals

Pro-life group marches in Bay

By DENA BISNETTE

A group of Coast residents led by three ministers carrying a child-sized coffin and a cross marched through Bay St. Louis Saturday, then held a memorial service for aborted children in front of the New Woman Clinic on Highway 90.

According to Rev. Nathan L. Barber, pastor of First Baptist Church, the "March For Life" was not sponsored by any specific church or pro-life group.

"We're just a bunch of citizens who are concerned about having a clinic here that provides abortions. We announced the march over the radio so that anyone could come," he said.

Over 30 people, many carrying signs bearing pro-life slogans or pushing children in strollers, joined the march at its starting point on the courthouse lawn.

Rev. Ernest Cully, pastor of Word of Faith Church and one of the leaders of the march, said most of the participants were local residents but added that some had come from as far away as Pascagoula.

The marchers left the courthouse at 10 a.m. under police escort, but Cully said he expected others to join the marchers once they reached the clinic. "Whether we have six or 600, this protest will be just as effective," he explained.

"We will make our point," said Fr. Henry McInerney of Our Lady by the Gulf Catholic Church. "That's the most important thing. This thing (the clinic) is sanctioned by law, and we're showing that we can not condone such a law."

Cully said before the march that he expected no problems when the marchers arrived at the clinic.

"We're simply going to have a memorial service for the little children being slaughtered out there. Everyone is entitled to a birthday, and if they can't have a birthday we feel they should at least have a funeral. It's strictly a non-violent protest," he said. "Although abortion clinics all over the country are being bombed out or burned, we've been working overtime to prevent that kind of violence from coming here. I'd rather see the people who run the clinic get saved. They need Jesus," Cully added.

The authorization went into effect July 2 when the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers issued a public notice in the matter.

According to John Winn of the Corps regulatory office in Mobile, Ala., the authorization applies to about 200 lots in 'high marsh' areas which are scattered around the subdivision.

"We feel if a person came in today and said he wanted to build a subdivision in this high marsh area we could tell him he couldn't get a permit to put roads in," Winn said.

But Shoreline Park construction began before applicable laws and regulations were passed, he noted.

"Now we're stuck with a bunch of lots and a group of small lot owners who unknowingly bought rather marshy land."

"We're trying to make it as easy as possible for them."

"The public notice states that fill for driveways may be placed in certain wetland areas provided the fill area does not exceed 500 square feet and provided there are no non-wetland areas available for the driveway."

$2 million lawsuit is filed against city, phone company

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT

A $2 million lawsuit against the City of Bay St. Louis, South Central Bell Telephone Co. and several employees of both entities has been filed in U.S. District Court by Donnell Michael Anderson of 606 Spanish Acres Dr., Bay St. Louis.

Defendants in the suit include Bay

Police Chief Douglas Williams and Captain Robert Butler as well as Dan Hill and Bill Norris, South Central Bell employees.

South Central Bell District Manager Don H. Roberts said Friday that Hill and Norris are security managers for the phone company.

Anderson, who is a service technician for South Central Bell, charges in his complaint that the defendants 'conspired' to deprive him of his Constitutional rights under the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments.

On or about July 22, 1983, Anderson's complaint alleges, Norris and Hill, while conducting an investigation concerning missing telephone units, visited Anderson's home and 'harassed him with a series of questions and electronic tests on his personal telephone equipment before clearing him of any involvement in the missing telephones.'

Then, the complaint continues, 'Feeling aggrieved that their investigation cleared Anderson and that their suspicions were unfounded,' Norris and Hill visited Williams and Butler at police headquarters.

According to the complaint, during this visit Norris and Hill 'slandered and defamed' Anderson's reputation by alleging he was a thief, and incited Williams and Butler to arrest and harass him.

Shortly thereafter, the complaint continues, Butler, at Williams' direction, 'caused the arrest and incarceration of Anderson.'

"This arrest was without probable cause and was unsupported by a warrant," the complaint states.

Anderson is asking for judgment from all defendants jointly and severally in the amount of $1 million 'actual damages.'

In addition, "...because defendants' conduct demonstrates a reckless (sic) and wanton disregard" for Anderson's rights, he is requesting $1 million in punitive damages.

Army Corps of Engineers permit aids Shoreline Park construction

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT

An authorization permitting fill for driveways, house pads and mounded septic systems will facilitate construction in some 50 acres of Hancock County's 10,000-acre Shoreline Park subdivision.

The authorization went into effect July 2 when the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers issued a public notice in the matter.

According to John Winn of the Corps regulatory office in Mobile, Ala., the authorization applies to about 200 lots in 'high marsh' areas which are scattered around the subdivision.

"We feel if a person came in today and said he wanted to build a subdivision in this high marsh area we could tell him he couldn't get a permit to put roads in," Winn said.

But Shoreline Park construction began before applicable laws and regulations were passed, he noted.

"Now we're stuck with a bunch of lots and a group of small lot owners who unknowingly bought rather marshy land."

"We're trying to make it as easy as possible for them."

"The public notice states that fill for driveways may be placed in certain wetland areas provided the fill area does not exceed 500 square feet and provided there are no non-wetland areas available for the driveway."

The driveway fill must be associated with an existing access road which is either authorized or was built before permits were required for roads.

Fill for house pads may be placed under a house constructed on piling in certain wetland areas.

The fill area shall be limited to one foot beyond the 'drip line' of the house or 1,500 square feet, whichever is smaller.

No fill shall be placed within 25 feet of canals or natural bays.

officials from the Hancock County Sheriff's Department and the Bay St. Louis Police Department.

Compretta said Carter has no prior felony convictions and has cooperated with law enforcement agencies.

Thomas questioned Carter extensively about his involvement in drug sales and also about his testimony earlier this week in the trial of Doris Ellis for sale of a controlled substance.

"Did the police cut a deal with you to help create a case against Ellis?" Thomas asked.

"No, sir," Carter responded.

In addition to the prison sentence, Thomas ordered Carter to pay $200 to the Bay St. Louis Police Department and $100 to the sheriff's department for monies used to purchase drugs, noting the amount of restitution was more than that actually paid.

Thomas also ordered that Carter be placed on probation for two years following his release from Parchman.

OTHER COURT MATTERS

In other court proceedings this week:

—Thomas denied attorneys' requests for a transcript of last week's trial of Robert Corkern for capital murder of Gerald Comiskey.

Yvonne Chapman Sills and Nicolas Haas requested a transcript on behalf of their client Robert Corkern, whose trial resulted in a hung jury.

William Frisbie and James Tucker requested a transcript on behalf of their client and Corkern's co-defendant Allen Nicolaou who has not yet been tried.

Thomas denied both motions, saying the attorneys had sufficient information about the testimony from Corkern's trial from other sources and noting the attorneys had free access to tapes of the trial.

A request for a special venire jury for Corkern's retrial was granted.

—The probation of Steven A. Finch, ordered after he pled guilty April 18, 1983, to a charge of grand larceny, was extended from three years to four years after Finch pled guilty Thursday to a July 23, 1984, DUI charge.

Finch was also ordered to participate in a drug identification program operated by the Mississippi Department of Corrections.

—Patrick O'Brian Bunch Jr. of Waveland was sentenced Monday to four years at Parchman for burglary of the dwelling of Charles Watzke III on Aug. 18, 1983, and possession of 15 marijuana plants on Aug. 19, 1983.

Thursday Thomas suspended that sentence and placed Bunch on probation for three years, ordering him to pay court costs and $350 to the county for attorney fees.

"I didn't like your attitude Monday," Thomas told Bunch.

"I think you walked into court thinking you were going to walk back out." —Larry Otis Williams of Rt. 3, Box 228, Bay St. Louis, pled guilty to a charge of arson of a dwelling on Feb. 2, 1983, saying he had committed the crime to collect insurance on the contents of the house.

The house itself, he said, was owned by a gentleman from New Orleans.

—Thomas postponed sentencing Williams pending receipt of a presentence report.

—Thomas also asked for a presentence report on Edwin Williams of Bay St. Louis, whom he found guilty following a bench trial Thursday of sexual assault (fondling) of a 10-year-old girl on Dec. 5, 1983.

—Raymond Billiot, 44, of Lakeshore was arraigned and pled not guilty to a charge of capital rape of a 12-year-old girl on Feb. 21.

—Judgment nisi in the amount of $25,000 was entered against William J. Moser of Shoreline Park when he failed to appear in court on a charge of forging a check on Oct. 13, 1983.

—Bert Lee Hall, 19, of Lumberton was released on his own recognizance pending his trial on a charge of armed robbery of Sellers Grocery on March 20.

Hall has been incarcerated in Hancock County Jail for 4½ months, he told the court.

Hall's co-defendants, John Travis Young, 15, and Archie Boyd Blackwell III, 17, both of Bogalusa, La., posted $10,000 property bonds immediately following their arrests.

—Fill for a mounded sanitary system may be placed in certain wetland areas provided the fill area does not exceed 500 square feet.

Under no circumstances, the notice states, may a sum total of more than 2,000 square feet be filled.

"Wetlands are areas that are inundated or saturated by surface or ground water at a frequency and duration sufficient to support, and that under normal circumstances do support, a prevalence of vegetation typically adapted for life in saturated soil conditions.

Wetlands generally include swamps, marshes, bogs and similar areas.

The notice further states that "structures and activities that may be hazardous to navigation or may produce adverse effects on the chemical, physical or biological integrity of the water bodies may not be issued."

Applicants for fill permits must submit satisfactory plans, and all state and local permits must be obtained before work can be initiated.

According to the notice, the general permits will be valid for a five-year period or until suspended or revoked, and authorization for an activity shall automatically expire if it is not completed within three years.

Authorizations will be suspended if state water quality standards are not met.

Winn said some existing lots and homes in Shoreline Park have driveways that were constructed without permits.

"We are applying this authorization retroactively to those sites," he said.

Winn said the authorizations are limited to the areas shown on a map on display at the Shoreline Park subdivision office on US-90 in Waveland.

"The map also defines a large area that is deep inter-tidal marsh," he said.

"We would not anticipate granting much in the way of permits for that area."

For a specific determination on any given lot, persons may contact the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Mobile District, P.O. Box 2288, Mobile, Ala. 36628, telephone (205) 694-3776.

Eight-month-old dies when crib collapses

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT

The collapse of a crib early last Sunday morning resulted in death for Russell Isaac Sones, the 8-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Sones of Oak Street near Bayou LaCroix.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson said the child's head was trapped between the side of the bed and the spring when his crib collapsed.

According to the sheriff's department report submitted by Deputy Sheriffs David Garcia and Ronald Garcia, a bracket came loose allowing the crib spring and mattress to collapse to the floor on one side.

The incident happened about 6:30 a.m. Sunday.

Peterson said the boy's body was removed from the crib by his sisters Kimberly, 11, and Sarah, 9, while a brother, Daniel, 8, awakened their father.

The death has been ruled an accident, Peterson said.

Youth drowns off Waveland

A 16-year-old Prentiss youth, Richard James Easterling, apparently drowned near Waveland Saturday.

Witnesses told authorities that the youth, who was reportedly visiting the area with a baseball team, dove off the seawall into very shallow water near the picnic area of Buccaneer State Park, said Waveland Fire Chief Don McIntire.

McIntire said members of his department assisted Waveland Police Department and Mobile Medic with the recovery of the body.

Coroner Harold Stiglet said Easterling was dead on arrival at Hancock General Hospital.

have been reversed.

"We want to settle this. We don't want to do something and then have Pitman change his mind," the election commissioner explained.

Ladner said he was not aware of an opinion had been requested, but said he felt it was "good someone is checking on it." He said he has not received any specific instructions concerning the matter from either school or election officials since the redistricting.

He declined comment on what action he would take if the attorney general's opinion says someone else should be elected to the Beat One post.

"This is the first I've heard about the request for an opinion, and I prefer not to comment any more until I find out more about it," he said.

PROBLEM CORNER—Stop signs now mark the corner of DeSoto and Jasper Streets in BaySide Park, the site of an auto accident Wednesday afternoon. According to Beat One employee J.V. Ladner, a county crew was down the street erecting signs when the accident occurred and put these two up later the same afternoon. "It's a constant job keeping signs here," said Ladner, noting that many of the signs placed in BaySide Park have been stolen or torn down. He said it costs about $500 to $600 for 25 stop signs, making replacing them expensive as well as time consuming. (Staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

Ling assumes duties at governor's office

Edwin R. Ling of Waveland has been named director of administrative services for the governor's office.

Ling, a chief counsel at National Space Technology Laboratories in Hancock County, will continue in his present job but will be loaned from NSTL to the governor's office for about one year through the Inter-Governmental Personnel Act. The act allows federal and state governments to exchange executive level personnel.

The Office of Administrative Services coordinates personnel, finances, property and procurement for each of the divisions of the governor's office, which has been reorganized and now has 325 employees rather than 27.

Ling assumed his duties as head of the office about two weeks ago.

Ling is a native of Wichita, Kans., and is a graduate of Grinnell College in Iowa. He holds a law degree from New York University Law School.

He is a former employee of the U.S. Justice Department and the Atomic Energy Commission and came to the Gulf Coast in 1963 while NSTL was being constructed. Before joining NSTL in 1977, Ling worked at the Michoud plant near New Orleans and as a deputy chief counsel at Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala.

Ambulance service membership a must

Only three days remain for Hancock and West Harrison county families to obtain membership in Mobile Medic Ambulance Service for the coming year.

We feel that it is very important for all families in our area to subscribe to this necessary service.

This August will begin the 11th year of the ambulance service which covers Hancock and West Harrison counties.

The membership fee for a family is $39, (same as last year), which includes husband, wife and children under 21 living at home.

During the past 10 years Mobile Medic has visited every block of city streets and miles of the rural roads in Hancock County.

To give you an idea of how active Mobile Medic is in Hancock County, between August 1983 and June 1984, they had 227 dry runs, 599 emergencies, and 564 transfers.

These calls were spread from Pearlinton, Leetown, Highway 53, Standard, Kiln, DeLisle, Diamondhead, Waveland, Bay St. Louis and all points in between.

We at the newspaper probably get an opportunity to see Mobile Medic in action more than the average citizen because of our coverage of many of the accidents in the county.

The efficiency of Mobile Medic has continuously improved over the years, credited in no small measure to the continuing education of the ambulance attendants.

The benefits for the $39 are unmatched when you consider a non-member would pay more than $135 plus additional costs for services for an in-county service call.

We know many people feel they are not old enough to worry about needing Mobile Medic services, but one must realize many of the calls over the years have been for young children and teen-agers involved in accidents.

Normally a person using an ambulance service similar to Mobile Medic would have to pay extra if they are a member and needed transportation to an out-of-county hospital.

The number of additional doctors at Hancock General during the past year has limited the necessity for residents to seek additional care outside of the county. Yet, there is an exception when Mobile Medic transports Hancock County members to Gulfport Memorial through a special agreement between the ambulance service and doctors, according to John Rester, Mobile Medic president.

We realize many residents may say their insurance will cover the cost for ambulance service. This is true in some cases, but most of the time personal insurance only covers a portion of ambulance services.

Mobile Medic offers ambulance service to Hancock and West Harrison counties and has 25 full-time and 18 part-time technicians, including 19 who have advanced levels of training.

As many of you know, Mobile Medic has a substation on US-90 behind the Wheel Inn Restaurant to service our area. Many of the technicians of the ambulance service are residents of our county.

An all-out effort is being made by the firm to give us the best emergency ambulance service, a service we feel is a necessity for our community.

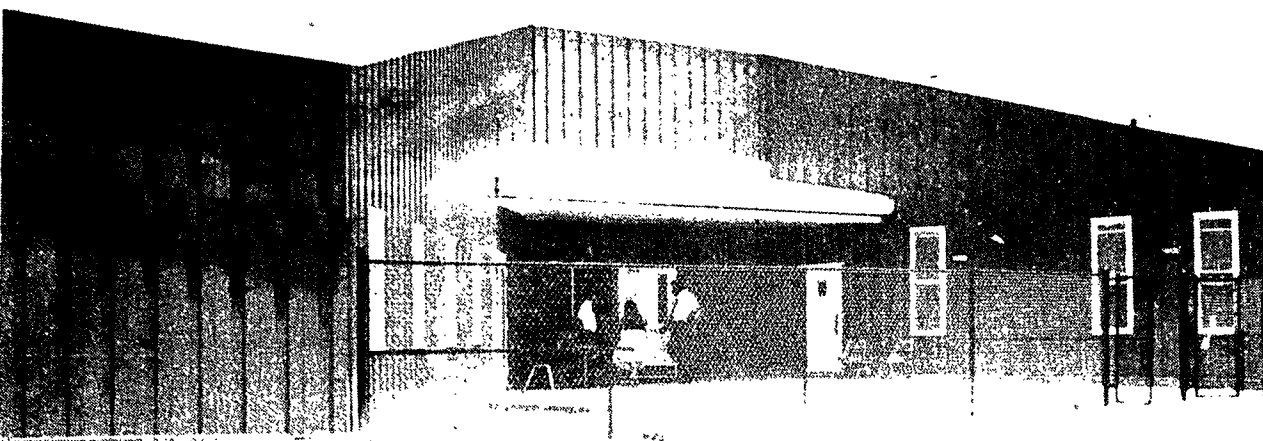

We never know what time of the day or night we may need the service, no matter what our age.

July is the only month to subscribe at the low rate of $39 per family. You can get a coupon from an advertisement in this issue of The Sea Coast Echo.

We hope you won't need their services for the coming year, but if you need them and have a family membership, you will save many dollars.

DORMITORY FOR FACILITY—J. Ruble Griffin, left, Circuit Court judge; and Ronnie Peterson, Hancock County sheriff, were among those attending the open house of the Mississippi Department of Corrections Harrison County Work Center on Thursday. The minimum security inmates provide free labor to Harrison County, Gulfport, and other government agencies. The facility opened two weeks ago and will house 76 inmates. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

EXTERIOR VIEW—The Mississippi Department of Corrections held an open house on Friday at the Harrison Community Work Center. The Work Center for minimum security inmates was similar to one recently turned down by the Hancock County Supervisors for location at Stennis International Airport.

IN CONGRESS

By Cong. Trent Lott

CREDIBILITY OF 98TH CONGRESS

Members of Congress return to Washington this week from the July District Work Period to face an overflowing slate of unfinished business.

There has been an awfully lot of political posturing on issues during the first six months of this session, and valuable time has been wasted debating and voting on a political agenda set by the Democrat majority.

Only three of 13 spending bills have cleared both the House and the Senate. Five more bills have been passed by the House but have yet to be considered by the Senate. Five bills also await consideration by the House.

These five include the all-important Defense Appropriations, the Labor, Health, Human Services and Education Appropriations and the Foreign Aid bill.

Spending bills are especially important because they are one way we still have of trying to hold down federal spending. But nine of the 13 above-mentioned spending bills, including those which have passed the House, together are $3.4 billion over 1984 spending levels and $2.5 billion over the President's budget requests.

But the unfinished list goes on. A conference report finalizing the 1985 budget is pending, and at this point, an agreement appears unlikely.

Action awaits the equal access act which would afford student religious organizations the same opportunity to use school classrooms as now is available to other extra-curricular student groups.

The Congress must act on superfund legislation which will provide for cleaning up toxic waste dumps throughout the nation and on anti-crime measures which have been pending over a year.

We have yet to consider the Intelligence Authorization providing for our security beyond our borders, or budget reform and the reauthorization of certain education programs. And final agreements have yet to be reached on disability reform, child support enforcement and pension equity, all issues of considerable importance to working men and women.

As you can see, the 98th Congress has its work cut out for it if its credibility is to be restored.

I wish I could offer unqualified optimism that those issues which most concern Mississippians and the rest of the nation will be dealt with substantively.

I can only admonish my colleagues in the House on the consequences of walking away from these issues.

TALKING ABOUT HEALTH—Barbara Kent, right, explains functions of body and use of proper foods for health care at the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Morning Edition luncheon. Kent works in the field of psychotherapy and health care. Those at the head table include from

NEWS FROM THE GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Almost everybody, at one time or another, has been the victim of less-than-scrupulous business practices, resulting in automobile repairs that didn't repair anything, the loss of money to a mail order scheme, the purchase of defective merchandise or some other similarly exasperating experience.

Although the victim is likely to use stronger and more colorful language, these practices fall into the category of consumer fraud, and many Mississippians turn to the Governor's Service Line when they encounter the problem.

"We get those calls daily," said Service Line counselor Roy Cotton. Most of the calls concern either automobile sales and repairs or mail order services, according to Cotton.

"So many times, people who buy automobiles feel they have been ripped off," Cotton said. "I always encourage them to use people who have established a good reputation."

Nearly all the complaints about mail orders involve out-of-state firms, according to Cotton.

"Some people are too gullible," he said. "They see pictures in a magazine and the merchandise looks so good and at such a low price. They send in their money and never get the merchandise."

Cotton refers many of the callers to the Economic Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office, which protects Mississippi consumers from fraudulent practices. The division receives more than 3,000 complaints of possible consumer fraud per month, according to Assistant Attorney General A. Michael Espy, head of the Economic Protection Division.

Espy defines consumer fraud as "an intentional misrepresentation by the manufacturer, seller or supplier of goods, or anything that takes place in the stream of commerce where somebody has intentionally misrepresented or lied about the quality of goods made or sold."

He said consumer fraud "runs closely parallel to contract law. They have breached the contract they made with the consumer on that particular sale."

But, he said, "There is a big distinction between commercial puffing, which is just general exaggeration, and fraudulent activity." For instance, Espy said it is not consumer fraud for a company to make a sweeping statement like "our product is number one," but it is fraudulent advertising to claim that the product includes a component which is not included.

"We (Economic Protection Division) step in to protect the consumer from this type of wrongdoing," Espy said.

He listed some guidelines to decrease chances of becoming the victim of consumer fraud:

- (1) There usually is no such thing as getting something for nothing, so beware if somebody tells you something is free.
- (2) Beware of people who seek you out as a customer, such as traveling home repair workers. "If somebody seeks you out, it should raise a red flag for you to be suspicious," Espy said.
- (3) Beware of deals that look too good to be true. They usually are.
- (4) Always get a written contract in advance for work you have done.
- (5) Don't give anybody money up front.

"We have authority over any product that has been misrepresented in the state," Espy said. "But that raises the question of enforcement because we obviously don't have the personnel to go outside our borders and bring people back. In those cases, we rely very heavily on cooperation between this office and the other attorney general offices."

"Let's say you send $29.95 to Hollywood, Calif. for something you never receive. We send a letter directly to that company, and we also send a copy of the complaint to the California Attorney General's Office."

He said there is excellent cooperation between the states.

The Economic Protection Division, which offers investigation, arbitration and litigation services, has a complaint form for consumers who feel they have been victimized by fraud. The complaint is sent to the company, with 10 days to respond. The response is then sent to the consumer, with five days for his or her response.

At this point, nearly 70 percent of the complaints are settled, many of which resulted from a misunderstanding on the part of the consumer, according to Espy.

Cotton said Mississippians are invited to call the Governor's Service Line for information on a particular company before spending or investing, or for information on any state service.

Information may be obtained by calling the Jackson number, 961-4042, or the toll free number 1-800-222-7622.

Parish News

By Rev. B.C. Keller, SVD

Jesus could have said: "Follow me—it's the smart thing to do!"

But he is not so blunt. He tells stories and, in simple images, he teaches the lesson to both our minds and our hearts.

Kindly remember in your prayers Edgar Benoit Jr. and Joseph Trahan, former parishioners, who died recently in Florida and Houston, respectively.

Fr. Keller wishes to thank everyone for the six years he was able to work with you here at St. Rose. The good times far outweigh the not-so-good times.

He will spend Monday and Tuesday with the new pastor, Fr. Jack Sheerin, SVD, before leaving for his new assignment in Texas.

Parishioners who are Knights of Peter Claver are invited to attend the installation of Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus and their officers at the KC Hall tomorrow.

A banquet will begin the activities at 7:30 p.m. Bishop Howze will be in attendance.

The Padre Pio prayer group will meet next Saturday at 5:30 p.m. in church.

This coming Friday the March for the People on behalf of World Peace will pass through Bay St. Louis.

They will be lodged overnight at the Seminary.

Our parish has been asked to provide a potluck dinner for the group in our cafeteria on Friday at 6:30 p.m. We ask our parishioners to please bring a covered dish to the cafeteria by 5 p.m. A slide lecture and discussion will follow the dinner in the cafeteria for those who contributed toward the success of feeding this group.

We wish to thank in advance for the help you give this group in its marching on our behalf for world peace.

Our parish council will meet on Thursday, August 9.

Our Gospel Choir will practice on Tuesday at 6:30 p.m.

Peace walkers to visit Hancock County.

Four people walking from California to Washington, D.C., and Moscow to promote world peace will visit three Hancock County churches Friday.

The peace walkers, who are collecting petitions and other messages during their walk for presentation to officials in Washington and Moscow, will visit Annunciation Parish in Kiln and St. Augustine's Seminary on Friday and will be guests at a covered dish supper and film at St. Rose De Lima Church in Bay St. Louis Friday evening, according to St. Rose Parish Council President Geraldine Lang.

Some local residents may join the peace walkers for part of their march through the Hancock County area, but details have not yet been worked out, Mrs. Lang said.

The peace walkers left Point Conception, Calif., in March and expect to reach Washington before the November election, according to walk organizer Dale James. They are currently scheduled to reach Moscow by October 1985.

Anyone interested in assisting with the supper for the peace walkers may contact Mrs. Lang at 467-9586.

In April 1982, Mondale was also the featured speaker at the state party's third annual Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner.

Bay essayist wins Mideast trip

Anna Maria di Benedetto of Bay St. Louis has won a national essay competition entitled "The Arab-Israeli Conflict: A Solution."

Ms. di Benedetto, a 21-year-old graduate of University of Mississippi and recent winner of a Fulbright Scholarship, will leave July 27 for an orientation day in Washington, D.C. and on July 28 will leave New York with four other winning contestants to begin their three-week prize tour of Jordan, the West Bank and Tunisia.

Their itinerary will include visits to historical sites, universities and private homes and meetings with government officials. They will return to their hometowns on Aug. 22.

The judges included Mary Rose Oaker, United States Representative,

ETV Brief

FEELING ALL RIGHT

Joe Cocker rips into an hour's worth of songs on "Soundstage" at 9:30 p.m., Friday, Aug. 3 on Mississippi Educational Television.

From his opening rendition of "Feeling All Right" to the closing notes of "High Time We Went," the songs get intense and the hands go wild in typical Cocker fashion.

Though he seldom writes his own lyrics, Cocker's adaptations of other musicians' works are often thought to be Cocker's own works. In his "Soundstage" performance, Cocker sings the Box Tops' "The Letter," Bob Dylan's "Watching the River Flow," Jimmy Cliff's "Many Rivers to Cross" and Billy Preston's "You Are So Beautiful."

Celebration to mark 50th anniversary of Ft. Pickens

A day-long seafood festival, Navy band music, special tours and an evening concert by the Pensacola Symphony will highlight a Saturday celebration of the 50th anniversary of Fort Pickens at Gulf Islands National Seashore near Pensacola Beach, Fla.

We anticipate a crowd of several thousand local residents and visitors to join us the first Saturday in August for a day of fun, sun and good food," said Frank Pridemore, superintendent of the national seashore.

Park Service personnel also will be conducting special tours throughout the day to acquaint visitors with the military history of Santa Rosa Island," Pridemore said.

Fort Pickens, a massive brick and earthen structure located on the western end of the island, was completed in 1834—more than 25 years before the start of the Civil War.

The fort, along with other historic forts around Pensacola Bay and portions of the Gulf Coast beaches, were added to the National Park System in 1971.

Pridemore said the Aug. 4 festivities will begin at 10 a.m. with the opening of the seafood festival at the Fort Pickens parking lot.

Vendors will offer a wide variety of seafood delicacies such as shrimp, oysters, shark kebabs, mullet and sandwiches at prices ranging from 50 cents to $5.

Food, beer and soft drinks will be sold until 8:30 p.m.

Special programs and guided tours of the fort will be offered by Park Service rangers every hour on the hour from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., Pridemore said.

A U.S. Army color guard unit from Fort Rucker, Ala., will give a demonstration at the fort at noon and the Correy Station Navy Band will perform on stage in the Fort Pickens parade ground from 2 to 4 p.m.

The free concert by the Pensacola Symphony Orchestra will be held in the parade ground from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Pridemore said visitors are urged to bring blankets and lawn chairs for the evening concert.

"Since parking on Santa Rosa Island is limited, we have arranged for shuttle buses from the Escambia County Transit Corp. to transport visitors to the Fort Pickens area," Pridemore said.

He said buses will pick up visitors at public parking areas at Gulf Breeze High School, the Pensacola Beach water tower and at National Park Service parking areas on the road to Fort Pickens.

No public parking will be allowed at Fort Pickens on the day of the celebration, Pridemore said.

A commemorative medal and a philatelic cachet envelope in honor of Fort Pickens' 150th anniversary will be sold at the Quartermaster Store next to the fort.

The postal cachet, issued in conjunction with the U.S. Postal Service, will include a cancelled envelope with artwork depicting the history of the fort, two 1940s postal stamps in denominations of 2 cents and 3 cents, and a 15 cents U.S. flag stamp issued in 1976.

The limited edition commemorative medal, available in silver, bronze or aluminum, is being issued in cooperation with the Pensacola Historical Society.

"FEELING ALL RIGHT"—Joe Cocker performs some of his best known hits on "Soundstage" at 9:30 p.m. Friday, Aug. 3, on Mississippi ETV. On the program are "Feeling All Right," "High Time We Went," "The Letter" and other familiar tunes.

Cooperative
Extension Service

Mississippi's 1984 peach crop, valued at an estimated $7 million, is the largest growers have enjoyed in the past 20 years.

Dr. Richard Mullenax, horticultural leader with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, said the crop is providing state residents with quality peaches at reasonable prices.

"Most Mississippi peaches are sold inside the state at roadside stands or a pick-your-own operations," Mullenax said.

"And you don't find too many people that don't like peaches, whether fresh, frozen or in peach cobbles or pies."

Mullenax said pick-your-own operations are becoming the popular way to market the crop because of the need for less farm labor.

This year's big crop is a result of Extension Service efforts over the past several years to push peach production in Mississippi.

"Under good management practices Mississippi farmers can grow as good a peach as can be grown anywhere in the United States," Mullenax added.

Mullenax noted Mississippi is not a hilly state but said peaches will grow well on all the state's well-drained soils. But the crop should not be planted on soils where water stands in the winter, he warned.

"This bumper peach crop comes from about 2,000 acres of producing orchards in the state," he said.

"About 400 of these acres represent some 20 new peach growers who are harvesting their first crop. We also have several one-to-two-year-old orchards, plus several orchards that were established in February and March of this year."

The horticulture specialist said peaches are being grown by many farmers looking for alternatives to traditional row crops. And he said some new peach growers have never farmed before.

"We are a long way from producing all the peaches consumed in the state," Mullenax said.

"Most of our operations are not large enough for commercial packing sheds, but we're working in that direction."

Potential for peach production in Mississippi is almost unlimited, according to Mullenax.

"We have lots of well-drained soils all the way from the Gulf Coast to the Tennessee line that will grow quality peaches," he said.

"In 1962 and 1963 South Carolina lost its entire peach crop. A large number of Georgia growers also lost peaches."

About half the crop in New Jersey was destroyed this year because of cold weather."

Mullenax said Mississippi is not as prone to cold damage as these states, which gives growers in the state an advantage in growing peaches.

Another advantage is that much of the state's crop is under irrigation, especially the new orchards.

"Four out of the past five years have been dry ones as far as peach production is concerned," Mullenax said.

"Irrigation will ensure the grower of a larger peach and is essential for good peach tree maintenance."

Mullenax said most growers are doing a good job with disease and insect control programs, and growers who are not willing to spray trees should not plant them.

"We have lost some trees in the past few years from a fungus root rot," he said. "We are working on practices to lessen damage from this disease."

ETV Brief

CRANE MIGRATION

"Flight of the Whooping Crane," a National Geographic Special first seen on Mississippi Educational Television in the spring, will be rebroadcast at 8 p.m., Wednesday, Aug. 8. It also can be seen at 1:30 p.m., Thursday, Aug. 9.

The film follows a family of whooping cranes as they migrate from their winter home in Texas to the nesting grounds in Canada.

Whooping cranes have soared in the skies of North America for thousands of years. But in the last 200 years, man has destroyed much of the cranes' natural habitat and often hunted and killed the giant birds.

By 1941, only 21 cranes were known to exist in the wild. It became clear that the snowy white whoopers, with their fierce, fiery eyes and javelin-like bills, would soon fade from existence.

Alarmed, many individuals and groups responded to the plight of the cranes. But perhaps the most successful—and imaginative—efforts were mounted under the auspices of the U.S. and Canadian governments and the National Audubon Society.

Viewers of the new special will see a sampler of those efforts.
